MACARTHUR'S FORCES TAKE GONA FROM JAPS

Youths Reaching 18 Since Last June 30 Register Tomorrow

New Registration Areas Set Up By Draft Board For Salem District; Three One-Week Periods Scheduled By Government

Youths who have become 18 since last June 30 start registering tomorrow for induction into the armed forces.

In the Salem draft district the boys can register at one of the following designated registration centers:

Memorial building in Salem.

Office of Atty W. O. Wallace in Columbiania.

White's barber shop in Leetonia.

Reichenbach garage in North Georgetown.

This is a change from the previous plan to have all enrollments made here.

The schedule, calling for three one-week registration periods for youths grouped by their birth dates:

Dec. 11 to 17, inclusive—Those born on or after July 1, 1924, but not after Aug. 31, 1924.

Dec. 18 to 24, inclusive—Those born on or after Sept. 1, 1924, but not after Oct. 31, 1924.

Dec. 26 to 31, inclusive—Those born on or after Nov. 1, 1924, but not after Dec. 31, 1924.

The War department announced that the order suspending voluntary enlistment would not interfere with the Army's volunteer officer candidate program. However, men who have passed their 38th birthday will not be accepted as candidates although those who had been ordered by Dec. 5 to report for induction will be taken for training.

The order in which 18-year-old youths will be classified for induction will be determined by their birth dates with the oldest coming first.

Youths who become 18 after Dec. 31 must register on their birth dates. In the nation, this group is expected to average about 60,000 a month.

Any 18 or 19-year-old registrant attending High school who is ordered to report for induction during the last half of an academic year may have his induction postponed until the end of the academic year upon written request to his draft board.

Addition of the new registrants to the list of draft eligibles will postpone to some extent the induction of childless married men, but their addition has been offset in part by the recent stoppage of induction of those 38 or older.

NEW GERMAN SHAKES UP SEEN

General Zeitzler Revealed As Chief Of The General Staff

BERLIN (From German Broadcast). Dec. 10.—The Berlin radio broadcast a Transocean agency dispatch today which said that "for the first time the public has learned that Infantry General Zeitzler is chief of the general staff of the army."

(The Nazi regime apparently took this unusual means of making the first authorized announcement of an important change in the German high command, reports of which have been reaching the outside but never with Berlin's confirmation.)

The post goes: Hitler personally was held by General Franz Halder, who has been mentioned as one of several army leaders who are believed to have fallen under Hitler's displeasure and been marked for a "purge."

The Transocean dispatch said: "Thursday's Berlin Nachtausgabe (newspaper) published a photo with the following caption:

"The führer at a military demonstration in conversation with the chief of the general staff of the army, Infantry General Zeitzler."

"This photo shows Hitler with nine officers, in the foreground the führer and General Zeitzler, a man of heavy build in the prime of life.

"For some time Berlin has spoken of General Zeitzler as one of the most ingenious German general staff officers, whose great efficiency has asserted itself since the campaign in the west (France and the lowlands) and who therefore was promoted rapidly."

The dispatch said Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, and Albert Speer, minister for armament and munitions, were in the background of the picture.

Thus, apparently, Keitel alone remains of the triumvirate of high German officers, all holding virtually equal rank, who formed the top German command at the start of the war.

The third was Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German army, whose place Hitler himself took Dec. 21, 1941, acting on his "intuition," after the Nazis "altered before Moscow." Brauchitsch has been reported summoned back for consultations but never reinstated.)

TURIN AGAIN RAVISHED BY RAF BOMBERS

200 Or 300 Planes Cross Alps To Hurl Bombs On Arsenal City

ITALIAN COMMAND ADMITS BIG LOSS

Block-buster Explosives Believed To Have Been Used Last Night

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Striking with even greater power than the previous night, a strong force of Royal Air Force bombers hurled another mass of explosives last night upon mangled Turin, apparently striving to deal the death stroke to the once great Italian industrial city on the River Po.

The Italian high command admitted the raid and said "on the whole damage was great."

Numerous Fires Started

(Many buildings were hit and numerous fires were started,) the daily communiqué said.

"The number of victims from the preceding raid (Tuesday night's heavy attack by the RAF) are 75 dead and 112 wounded. The losses of last night are not yet known."

The air ministry said that three bombers failed to complete the round trip from Britain across the Alps, but said "a strong force" participated—suggesting 200 or 300 planes.

Despite the smoke pall over Turin, the bombardiers could pick out their objectives, the air ministry said.

A Reuters dispatch said watchers at Ticino, Switzerland, 80 miles away, saw lightning-like flashes on the horizon and heard the thunder of intermittent explosions, apparently from the super bombs.

No Let-up For Arsenal City

Turin, the royal arsenal city, had been heaped with destruction and fire only the night before and the return last night for the sixth raid in less than a month testified to the RAF's determination to smash Italian industry in one phase of the effort to knock Italy from the war.

Observers on the southeast coast said the planes streamed across the English channel for 90 minutes last night and were subjected to heavy anti-aircraft fire from German batteries on the French coast upon their return this morning from the roundtrip crossing of the Alps.

Air alarms were sounded in Swiss centers and the Swiss telegraph agency said that the Swiss minister in London had been instructed to make a "very firm" protest against RAF flights over the nation.

Arthur B. Cody, 45-year old veteran of World War I who has three sons in the service at the present time, has joined the navy to see action in the second world conflict.

Cody, who lives on Cedar st. in Hillsdale, has been a repairman for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. here for the past 21 years.

He was sworn in recently at the Youngstown naval recruiting station to receive an appointment as a petty officer.

Cody, who was overseas during the last World war, has one son, Arthur Cody, Jr., in the navy, and two other sons, Joseph and Earl, serving in the army.

Arthur, a seaman second class, joined the navy last August. He will be 19 years old in April. He is now stationed in the Canal zone.

Joe, 20, is a sergeant in an air force ground detachment at McRillan, Miss.

Earl, aged 22, now overseas, holds the rank of private, first class.

The cases of the sons, like the father, were voluntary enlistments.

Mr. and Mrs. Cody have two other children, Mary and Merlin, at home. Merlin, 14, is too young yet for the service.

Reinforcements brought in by the Germans on the central front were declared by Red Star to be generally middle-aged men, some of whom had been trained for only 10 to 20 days before they reached the front.

However, Red Star was quick to point out, many units which have been brought in to the Rzhev-Vyazma-Velikie Luki region are made up of well-trained fighting men taken from other fronts.

In clashes northwest of Stalingrad, Soviet heavy artillery was reported being turned against German tanks with deadly results.

The Red army's airmen were credited by Soviet authorities with a growing part in smashing at German efforts to halt the Russian winter offensive.

Postmaster Beardmore said that gifts, greeting cards and letters should be mailed as soon as possible. Here are some suggestions to aid the post office in assuring prompt handling of holiday mail.

Pack articles carefully in strong, durable containers. Wrap parcels securely, using strong paper and twine, but do not seal them except when bearing a printed label reading: "Contents, merchandise." Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary.

Enemy Is Penned Now In Buna Area Of Guinea After Losing Northern Anchor of Beachhead

Generals Map Buna Drive

Allied Air Forces Machine-Gun And Bomb Japanese Troops

(By Associated Press)
MELBOURNE, Dec. 10.—Complete occupation of the Gona area of New Guinea by Allied forces ended in the field by Gen. Douglas MacArthur himself was announced today.

The Japanese thus lost the northern anchor of their stubbornly-defended but ever-narrowing beachhead in Papua, a foothold already cut into segments by Australian and American jungle fighters.

Official reports showed that American forces striking at the lower end of the salient were making progress against defenses of the Buna village sector and a Japanese airfield.

Bitter fighting raged for possession of the air field, advices from the front said. Allied detachments were entrenched in two places at one end of the landing strip and Japanese held the other. U. S. and Australian air forces cooperated in heavy machine-gunning and bombing attacks upon the enemy positions.

The narrow zone between the air field and the sea coast was battered with Allied explosives yesterday.

Prime Minister John Curtin made the first announcement of the Gona conquest in the midst of a war review before the house of representatives in Canberra, the federal capital.

His victory news came 16 days after an Allied headquarters communiqué had announced the original Australian entry into Gona, testifying to the resistance put up by the Japanese.

Gona's fall left the Japanese pinned down in a narrow strip of coast centering on the Buna area, some 12 miles to the south.

The Japanese first landed at Gona on July 22 and from the Gona-Buna beachhead started their invasion drive which carried across the Owen Stanley mountains to within 32 miles of Port Moresby, Allied base, before they were halted.

Earlier today the regular communiqué from Allied headquarters in Australia announced that Allied troops had thwarted the Japanese in an attempt to break out of the Gona trap under cover of darkness, killing 26 of the enemy and capturing four. Eighteen more were killed and three captured in another clash a short time later. More than

BACK TO THE GRASS ROOTS

It's a strange and wonderful thing how hard knocks dispose of soft ideas. Almost overnight the brain busters in Washington quit worrying about how to make industry produce less and began to scream for more. That was just a year ago. Most of the ground has been made up, and preparations are well under way to make up the rest.

Wendell Willkie staged a presidential campaign on a platform of producing more of everything, but he was ahead of his time; that was away back in 1940. The United States was still afraid of production, because there was too much of everything already. That was the brain buster's story.

Another truth is dawning now on the obscure and muddled minds of all men who thought it would be a good idea to share the poverty instead of the wealth. The year beginning to see that the battle of production hasn't been won just because the factories and mills are turning out weapons and instruments of war. There is another place where the battle of production must be won, too.

That is the farms of the United States. The United States cannot feed itself and half the world by mishandling food producers any more than it can arm itself and half the world by mishandling arms producers. Certainly it cannot hope to develop the agricultural production needed for the job by pretending that no farm problem exists, which has been the official attitude until lately.

L. J. Taber, past master of National Grange, has summarized the situation by asking that agriculture be treated as a war industry to enable farmers to reach maximum production. This means balancing farm prices with increased costs of labor and material. "Food does not just happen," is Mr. Taber's reminder.

All along the line it is being discovered that the farmer is an extremely important citizen, even more important than most of the people he feeds, because if it weren't for him they couldn't live at all. What the American farmer does or doesn't do will be of interest throughout the world—everywhere that people are hoping to stave off starvation with American food.

At long last it looks as though the United States of America might be getting down to the grass roots of its existence, the good earth and the hard work, the ingenuity and patience, the common sense and the common honesty that made this such a great country. It's fortunate the job was done so well, or it might have been wrecked long since by those who never have understood what made it tick.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON TOULON

Skeptics who scouted Vichy's reports on events at Toulon, preferring to wait for trustworthy observers, are glad they waited. Secretary of Navy Knox reveals that air reconnaissance of Toulon harbor reveals at least 15 warships intact. This is not the picture of total destruction painted by the Vichy radio, known to be in the hands of the Germans at the time the sensational scuttling occurred.

The disparity reflects no discredit on the French crews. They had scant time for their job. It is likely that some of their ships stayed afloat despite their efforts. Whatever discredit is reflected falls on official France's foolish policy of continuing to appease Germany after appeasement had led to its defeat in 1940 and on all who wanted so desperately to believe that Germany never would use French warships in the Mediterranean that they took report from enemy sources literally.

Perhaps the lesson will discourage those who lately are tempted to believe the Axis is gorged and no longer able to put up a stiff fight.

AIR FIGHTERS CONFIDENT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN LIBYA

—Over at El Agheila, where the Mediterranean cuts deeply into the coast of Cirenaica to form the great Gulf of Sirte, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis forces are nervously expecting another attack by the Allied army which already has driven them in flight across 700 miles of desert.

The Axis troops are dug in on a strong line which they prepared many months ago. That line is calculated to withstand great pressure, but nothing is more certain than that Rommel's eyes are continually searching the skies anxiously. There lies one of his greatest worries, for it was the Anglo-American air forces which played a major part in smashing his defense at El Alamein and precipitating his historic debacle.

Thus the leadership of the Britons who command the Allied air forces is, to put it mildly, a matter of lively concern to all Americans.

It was therefore, with keen interest that I responded to the cheery greeting of welcome and shook hands with Air Vice Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham, generalissimo of the desert skies in these parts.

The marshal was drinking coffee at a little table set on the sand in front of his caravan under the powerful sun.

Coningham is a big fellow, about six feet two, but he has the figure of an athlete at the comfortable age of 47. He is good looking, too, with an attractive laugh.

The marshal talked freely about the military position as though he were at a staff conference. As a matter of fact, I find invariably that it is the big men who talk readily to reputable journalists.

I asked how our Yankees were doing on this front.

"Magnificently," he exclaimed. "Their work has been quite splendid. That cannot be overemphasized."

"How about cooperation between the two forces?"

I inquired. Is there any clash?"

"There are no differences whatever," he declared. "We are working as a unit and self-interest doesn't enter the picture at all. We have a job to do and we are doing it."

The air commander paused and grinned, then continued:

"General Strickland (Brig. Gen. Aubrey C. Strickland, chief of the U. S. fighter command in the Middle East) toddles over to my caravan with a can of pineapple juice. I put a little spot of gin in it. That's the sort of cooperation that exists."

I came away with the definite impression that Coningham expects hard fighting, but is absolutely certain of Allied victory.

ASK SOLDIER RANKING

COLUMBUS, Dec. 10.—Ohio farm and employment leaders today considered a proposal that young members of the nation's agricultural army receive "military recognition."

Consideration was given to the advisability of such a plan, the conferees asserted, so that "boys who remain on the farm will not suffer by comparison with boys in the armed services or lose prestige and preference after the war is over."

The author of the proposal was not announced and the group made no definite recommendations regarding it. A spokesman said, however, that one of the conferees suggested boys on the farm "are doing their patriotic duty the same as soldiers and should be given the same post-war consideration on pensions and civil service preference as men in the armed forces."

The group outlined a 10-point program to be recommended at a meeting Friday with Wade Hammon, deputy regional director for the War Manpower commission.

TUBERCULOSIS IN THE OLDER PEOPLE

It Often Spreads Contagion, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE MODERN program for eliminating tuberculosis is based to a certain extent on a somewhat cruel fact. Tuberculosis workers don't create the fact, but they are likely to be blamed when they put it into application. I refer, of course, to the fact that we believe that tuberculosis is spread from incidence of tuberculosis. It is no pleasant job to remove fathers or mothers from their children and have them segregated so that they very seldom see the children, but it must be remembered that tuberculosis begins in childhood and is the result of contact with another human being who already has it.

Chronic Tuberculosis

In this connection it is astonishing to find how many people past middle age have chronic tuberculosis. We think of tuberculosis as occurring in young people and of being cured or healed, or of carrying the individual off before he has a rived at the age of 50. However, this is not true. In some people it becomes an extremely chronic disease and people may have active tuberculosis and be able to breathe out tuberculosis germs until even a ripe old age.

Most of these people have no idea that they have tuberculosis; they know they have a chronic cough and call it chronic bronchitis. It is sort of natural to have grandmother and grandfather take care of the baby while mother and father are out some Saturday or Sunday afternoon, and this close contact may be the cause of active tuberculosis in a child.

In a routine examination of 3,000 patients at the Philadelphia General Hospital it was found that 25 per cent had tuberculosis of the lungs; 1,000 of these patients were over 60 years of age and in this group 28 per cent were found to have tuberculosis of the lungs and it were capable of spreading to other human beings.

In a careful study of 136 such patients it was found that 80 knew of a family history of tuberculosis; 24 per cent knew of tuberculosis in their parents and 35 per cent knew of tuberculosis among their children or grandchildren. This is a sufficiently startling set of statistics to make us realize the prevalence of tuberculosis in those of middle age or over.

The symptoms which these patients had and which should make one suspicious were as follows: About three-fourths of the patients had a cough; nearly the same number were subject to colds; 1 per cent had pleurisy; 10 per cent complained of weakness; a small percentage had night sweats and nervousness and a fair percentage complained of dyspepsia.

BRITISH RESUME LIBYA OFFENSIVE

Reported Attacking Axis Positions In El Aghelia Area

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 10—Reuters quoted the Morocco radio today as saying that the British army had resumed its offensive in Libya against the Axis forces yesterday, attacking German and Italian positions near El Aghelia.

British sources in London said they had no confirmation of the report, however.

A communiqué from Allied headquarters in North Africa said there was little activity except patrolling in the forward areas yesterday because of rain which has made much of the terrain impassable.

"Our aircraft bombed a small enemy column in the southern sector," the communiqué said.

The Allied and German armies in Tunisia were reported probing cautiously for weak spots in each other's lines with both sides feverishly speeding preparations for the crucial battle that may explode at any moment.

Advices from the front last night, however, said the weather was unfavorable for large-scale land or air action and it appeared that for the moment, at least, the key to the situation lay in the hands of the elements.

These advices said the latest operations were limited to patrol skirmishes, marked by tentative British and American thrusts at the Axis defenses on the outer approaches to Bizerte and Tunis.

There was little in these reports to indicate how the situation was shaping up, but there appeared reason to believe that the Allies were making use of the lull to overcome the deficiency in air strength from which they obviously have been suffering in the forward areas.

A Reuters dispatch from North Africa said that fresh units of the United States and British air forces were arriving constantly at the front to support the ground troops.

"The RAF has now completely caught up with the First Army," the news agency asserted. "Spitfires, Lockheed Lightnings and light bombers are overhead."

At the same time, the military correspondent of the London Daily Mail declared that "the First Army has weathered the crisis," hinting that Allied air strength would be sufficient to cope with the Germans when the battle is renewed in full fury.

PORLTAND, Ore.—Members of Benson high school's woodworking class were surprised but undaunted the other day at a hurry-up order by the Red Cross for 1,100 cribbage boards to be included in packages to American soldiers overseas. In just 3½ days, 18 boys of the department finished the boards, 130,000 drilled holes and all.

Soviet guerrilla fighters, far behind the enemy lines, are regularly supplied by plane with newspapers and even films.

PHILIPPINES STILL FIGHTING INVADERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Vichy radio broadcast today a dispatch dated Tokyo reporting that certain of the Philippine Islands still were "held by Americans" and that Japanese marines had been landed there to end resistance.

The dispatch said Japanese naval headquarters had announced this action, adding that "violent fighting is now in progress."

The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded in London, also said Japanese forces had been landed on islands where Americans were still resisting and added that "in fierce fighting the Americans gradually are being forced to surrender."

Only last week the Tokyo radio admitted American and Filipino resistance had continued long after the fall of Bataan and Corregidor but asserted that it was being cleaned up.

Tokyo broadcasts heard in New York today did not mention the landings reported by Vichy and Berlin.

ARMED FORCES GET HALF CANNED GOODS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The War Production Board today ordered approximately one-half of the 1943 pack of popular canned fruits, vegetables, and juices set aside for purchase for the armed forces, lend lease, and other government agencies, thus reducing the supply available to civilians substantially below pre-war levels.

In 1942, canners were required to set aside about 35 per cent of their pack for the government.

WPB estimated the portion of the 1943 pack allocated for civilian use would provide a maximum of about 33 pounds of canned foods per capita in 1944, when most of the 1943 pack will be consumed. This compared with an annual average per capita consumption of canned foods of about 46 pounds in the pre-war period, 1935-39.

The order also applies to processors of frozen, dried, dehydrated, pickled, preserved, and other non-perishable products. Previously, it applied only to canned foods.

LANDLORDS REBEL AT OPA'S RULING

FINDINGS LISTED IN STATE REPORT

LISBON, Dec. 10—Findings for recovery totaling $1,474.56, in favor of Columbiana county, are shown in the report of State Examiner W. A. Morrison's inspection of county records.

The report, received today, covers the period from March 16, 1940, to Aug. 1, 1941. All of the findings are listed as technicalities, none being of a criminal nature.

A total of $1,128.89 in findings remains unpaid, the sum of $345.67 having been paid back, the report shows.

The findings range from $3.50 to $104, the largest finding having charged against former Sheriff M. K. Duty for meals served to prisoners in local restaurants at a price above the 25 cents which is allowed per prisoner meal.

A similar $45.50 finding stands against Sheriff George Hayes.

The audit, made at an expense to the county of $2,146.38, required five months to complete.

May Be Governor

Octogenarian Walter Goodland, former governor of Wisconsin, may be the state's next chief executive following the death of Orland S. Loomis, governor-elect. State law doesn't provide for the official determination as to whether Goodland or the present incumbent, Julius P. Heil, should take over the reins of the state government.

Sees Enough Rubber
CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—If synthetic rubber plants now planned are completed, the nation's production will be sufficient by next October to provide for the military needs of the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Vasili I. Komarewsky, research scientist.

The rubber will be of lower cost and higher quality than the natural product, believes Dr. Komarewsky, who has worked with synthetic rubber in Russia and Germany and who has patents covering more than 50 processes.

(By International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Two U. S. Marine candidates who have been playing shoulder-to-shoulder in Notre Dame's football line are up for All-American rating again this year.

Handicapped in early season play, Big Wally Ziemba, at center, and Lou Rymkus, left tackle, ignored serious injuries to spark the Fighting Irish to a successful season despite the fact that the team got away to a poor start.

Ziemba was rendered hors de combat in the Georgia Tech game when one of his two damaged knees gave way. He looked on for four weeks before returning his 228 pounds to the starting lineup at center against Army.

Below his usual speed in the Army game, Ziemba had the pleasure of seeing his bosom pal, Lou Rymkus, play the game of his life. The two men have been buddies as well as the biggest men on the squad since they were freshmen. Rymkus, a Chicagoan, was slowed down by injuries for two years, but his come-back has boosted him to a position among potential All-Americans. Against the army, Rymkus just missed blocking several cadet punts, and he piled up one running play after another with his crashing tactics.

Ziemba was given All-American rating last season and his play in the final half of the 1942 year substantiates the recognition in 1941.

Born in Hammond, Ind., July 19, 1919, Ziemba has risen to a height of 6 feet, 3 inches in his 23 years.

He made All-State tackle in football and at center in basketball at Hammond high school, also taking the Indiana shot put title. He was destined for track stardom at Notre Dame until his knees got banged around in football, rendering him comparatively ineffective. His best throw in competition was over 46 feet.

Ziemba started as Rymkus' running mate, playing right tackle as a sophomore. Shifted to center because of the need of a big, fast pivot man and also because Capt. Paul Lillie was available at right tackle last year, Ziemba won the Spring practice medal which goes annual to the man showing the most improvement.

Ziemba and Rymkus both enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve several months ago.

WASHINGTON, Pa.—When the new first lady of the state of Pennsylvania moves into the governor's mansion, along with her will go a collection of pitchers—more than 350 of them. Mrs. Edward Martin, wife of Gen. Edward Martin, the successful Republican candidate for governor, has been collecting pitchers of all kinds—from all parts of the world. One pitcher is 168 years old and another dates back 150 years.

Fueling Rommel Chasers Near Sidi Barrani

Royal Air Force ground crews cooperate with the Army forces by fueling their tanks only 800 yards from the enemy lines near Sidi Barrani. It was in this area that Marshal Rommel's rear guard attempted to slow up the onrushing Allies. Well stocked supply columns, following close on the heels of the armored units, made possible the rout of Rommel's Afrika Korps.

Between 1930 and 1940, the number of Americans 65 or older increased 35 per cent. Approximately 14,000,000 men over 45 years of age are now working in the United States.

Rabat, the political capital of Morocco, is more than 800 years old.

LEGION AID ASKED IN NAVY RECRUITING

LISBON, Dec. 10.—Columbian Legion posts have been asked to co-operate in the naval recruiting program undertaken as a feature of national defense by the American Legion. In order to facilitate and expedite recruiting service a state department of naval affairs has been established, with C. F. Burke of Akron as director.

Burke today notified J. Homer Browne, commander of John Welsh post, American Legion here, of his appointment as director of naval affairs in the Legion's 10th district, to organize and forward names and addresses of recruiters in the nine-county area, to the navy recruiting stations.

Browne, who is also American Legion volunteer recruiter here for the navy, stated today that recruiting service is now being concentrated on men in their 17th year and those between 38 and 50 years of age, since the closing of enlistments to men between 18 and 38 years. He urged youths of 17 to consider the navy as a career, while men in the 38 to 50 bracket are urged to consider the service with regard to their capabilities in skilled trades and crafts.

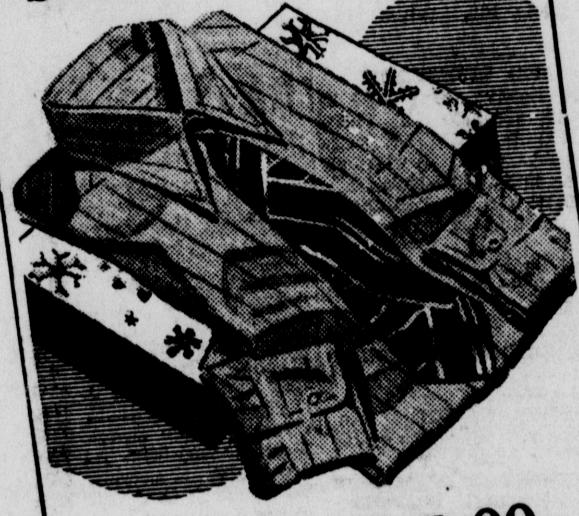

COLUMBUS—With the slogan, "Frills Are Out for the Duration," Ohio State University fraternities have begun a campaign to scrap annual homecoming decorations of houses. Money ordinarily used for decorations in the campus area will be used to purchase war bonds.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have trouble sleeping at night. Eat plenty of hearty passes with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition. See your physician, rest, sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling of ankles and fingers under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for 40 years. Two bags of these pills will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Quakers Face Veteran Columbian Squad In Contest Friday

SALEM FIVE SEEKS SECOND WIN; TEAM READY FOR BATTLE

Brown Drills Charges On Passing: Works On Floor Game

Having but an even break to show for their first two games of the season, the Salem High Quakers will seek their second victory of the campaign when they journey to Columbian Friday night.

Bolstered by their pleasing performance against Lisbon Tuesday, the locals will go into the Friday clash with confidence. The Quakers sharpened their passing attack at the expense of the weak Blue Devils and rang up 39 points in the bargain.

The Clippers, however, have not been idle. With lanky Don Patchen showing the way the Columbians five has bowled over Salineville, 46-30 and East Clinton, 42-32. Patchen tossed in 23 points against the former and 20 in the Fairfield contest.

Hollinger Graduated

Only Bill Hollinger is gone from last year's outfit which gave the star-studded Quaker aggregation trouble throughout the game before bowing in the face of a terrific second half rally by the home team. Patchen garnered only four points against Salem in that game.

Other members of the Clipper starting lineup are Bill Firestone, Bill Dickson, Ed Dowd and Gorcheff. Up from the reserve team are Case, Frye, Keck, Laughlin and Newell. Coach Merle Atkins has moulded his team carefully in order to get the best out of his material.

Coch Herb Brown drilled his charge last night, holding a light scrimmage, practicing the floor game and sharpening the passing attack which smoothed out nicely at Lisbon. Brown stated that he will unveil probably a new starting combination at Columbian Friday.

Rebounding Pleases

The work of Larry Frost, Walt Brian and Ed Fisher in controlling the backboards for the Quakers Tuesday was pleasing. The three boys were scrapping for the ball on every shot, inaugurating a fast-breaking attack when they got the rebound and tightening the defense if they lost it. The backcourt work rolled along smoothly after an anxious few moments at the beginning of the game with Harry Lodge, Dick Greene, Wayne Laughlin and Ray Wise sharing the work.

Brown has warned his team that the Clippers are no pushover and the Quakers are expected to be in fine mental attitude for the game. The reserve teams of the two schools will get together in a preliminary at 7:30. The varsity tilt is expected to get under way at 8:45 p.m.

FRESHMEN RECEIVE 'STAND BY' ORDERS

Faculties Authorize Ten-
Game Grid Schedule
For 1943 Season

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 — The Big Ten's freshman athletes — who hoped this week's conference meetings would give them permission to compete on varsity teams during the winter and spring seasons — instead have received their "stand by" orders, and may go into action, any time a serious shortage of athletic manpower develops.

The Western conference faculty representatives have decided there is no need at this time to use first-year men on varsity teams, but any time this need does develop the control group will be ready to meet and sanction abandonment of the freshman rule.

An Associated Press survey today disclosed a wealth of topnotch freshman material in the Big Ten—mostly basketball players, swimmers and track men. By the time another grid season rolls around the current freshmen will be sophomores and automatically eligible for the varsity teams.

Ohio State's best freshman prospect is 18-year-old Bill Smith, Hawaiian-born swimmer who dominated the Amateur Athletic union All-America tank team named this week. Lou (Big Chief) Groza, captain of the state championship Martin's Ferry (O.) High school basketball team last year, is regarded as a standout Buckeye cage candidate.

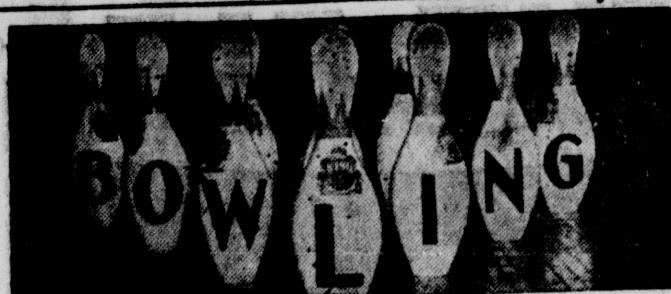

The faculty representatives not only took the view that this 1943 Big Ten football season would be played but also authorized schools to go one game over the new conference quota of nine contests provided the 10th is with a service team.

SAMMY BAUGH PRO PUNTING CHAMPION

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 — Sammy Baugh of Washington is the National Football league's punting champion for the third consecutive year.

League statistics give Baugh the edge over Dean McAdams of Brooklyn although the two finished in a tie under the league's rating system. McAdams lost out on the basis of average distance per punt. Baugh averaged 46.8 yards for 37 punts while McAdams had a 41.3 mark for 52 kicks. They tied for the longest punt of the season, 74 yards.

Old paint brushes should be reclaimed, the bristles being cleaned with gasoline or turpentine.

TIGERS SELL LAST FARM CLUB; CHAIN SYSTEM IS ENDED

Detroit Signs Working Agreement Contract
With Buffalo

BY WATSON SPOELSTRA

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 10.—The Detroit Tigers had the sole remaining piece of property from a once extensive farm system up for sale today and from all indications the club was through with chain store baseball for keeps.

With Betty Hull cracking out a 200, the Salem News captured two games of their set from the Gem Shoes, dropping the finale by six pins. The Gem Shoes lost a chance to make up some previous losses at the expense of Hatters.

But bowed twice in the last match on the card.

Public Libraries Valuable War Aids

The Salem public library is taking an active part in the war, according to Miss Alice Gladden, local librarian, who also emphasized the fact that 271 libraries in Ohio are doing a similar job.

Ohio libraries and the Salem public library realize that the greater dissemination of information must be more complete now than ever before, in order that everyone may understand all the demands.

The Office of Civilian Defense has asserted that recreational reading is important. But statistics show that Ohioans are also doing a lot of serious reading because of the war. Some libraries report a noticeable rise—as much as 50 per cent—in the demand for books on technical subjects. Requests for a higher type of non-fiction are made, many readers wishing to satisfy a curiosity about American allies or about South American countries or American Island possessions. Biography is getting a greater play than in years, with works on various war heroes, including MacArthur, in great demand.

The high school age group of readers is seeking vocational books and works about the U. S. armed services. Children are asking for airplane stories where they formerly demanded sport stories and mysteries.

The Salem public library has an adequate war reference service and reference librarians who are anxious to assist the public in obtaining information regarding current events, it is pointed out by Miss Susan B. Denning, assistant director of the Salem Victory Book campaign.

The library, she says, is always anxious to receive books which are suitable to be sent to army camps. Only books in good condition can be used, and volumes on aviation, technical subjects, biographies, fiction and recent travel are in the greatest demand.

Jim Langhurst, who had quite a day when he led the Iowa Seawawks against his alma mater, Ohio State, has been named the most valuable player on the pre-flight school football team.

They Gotta Play Students

Reporting from Pomona college will train 200 boys in the 18-21 age group at the army's expense in an air corps basic pre-meteorological course next year, the student publicity bureau notes. "One reason why we're looking forward to the football season; they'll be eligible, but maybe too smart."
